Explanation of Visuals

Storing Visuals

These materials have been compiled for use with He Has Been Clearly Seen. This curriculum has been designed to be reusable from year to year. Take care when preparing and storing lesson materials and visuals as you or someone else will be using them again. For that reason, you may want to laminate the visuals for durability. A storage system will also be helpful, such as large envelope or file folder per lesson, or a ring binder with clear plastic page protectors for each lesson. Teachers will also be collecting three-dimensional visual aids. In the resource file for each lesson, you may want to include a note indicating where corresponding three-dimensional visuals are stored.

Special Note

Because this particular curriculum emphasizes God's glory as seen through His creation, the use of photographs is recommended, whenever possible. For example, Lesson 3 calls for a variety of creation pictures. Photos from old magazines or calendars would be helpful.

Preparing Visuals

The bottom of most resource pages includes a reference for a corresponding lesson, which explains how to prepare and use each piece. Since permission has been given to reproduce these visuals, you may want to photocopy or print an extra copy of each page (from the CD enclosed in the teacher's kit) to keep as an intact reference copy for future use. Some pieces will be used as reproduced here—in full pages. Others will need to be cut apart.
